

Stainless steel operating terminals according to your needs

Operating terminals are designed and manufactured according to customer specific requirements. Housing size and style depend on the size and technical nature of the display.

Specifications:

Wall-mounting cases with integrated or separated keyboard

Floor-standing enclosure with integrated or separated keyboard

Mobile housing with different castor systems, receptacles and adaptors

Support arm housing with integrated or separated keyboard

All housings are available in IP55, IP65, IP66 or IP69K and in stainless steel material ranging from 1.4301 up to 1.4571

Examples for customized operating terminals:

